

HOSPITALITY.BYUH.EDU

BYU-Hawaii Center for HOSPITALITY & TOURISM

hospitality.byuh.edu

Discover Exciting Career Paths in the Dynamic World of Hospitality and Tourism

Hospitality and Tourism Management

Major / Minor

Never a Boring Day

Everyone loves to travel. Every year 1.2 billion people cross an international border seeking adventure, enrichment, relaxation or a business deal. This growing world of tourism creates huge demand for services, products and experiences, and a degree in Hospitality and Tourism Management from Brigham Young University-Hawaii is the ticket to a rewarding, fast-paced career in this field.

300 Million Worldwide Jobs in a Fast-Growing $8 Trillion Industry

The Center for Hospitality and Tourism was established to support the growth goals of BYU-Hawaii's academic program in Hospitality and Tourism Management. Made possible by the endowed generosity of the J. Willard and Alice S. Marriott Foundation, the Center encourages student achievement with academic scholarships; subsidizes meaningful hands-on internships; enlightens with sponsored executive lectures; and expands horizons with career exploration excursions.

Careers Available

The global tourism industry accounts for nearly 10% of the world's economy and it's growing at 4% per year. This amazingly diverse sector offers careers in hotels and resorts; airlines and cruises; destinations and attractions; conventions and meetings; restaurants and banquets; activities and adventures; tours and travel planning; and government agencies. Across all skillsets and functions, hospitality and tourism firms need lots of talented young people in positions of responsibility and growth.

Hospitality and Tourism faculty bring relevant professional experience and broad contact networks into the classroom. The friendly, dedicated staff deliver personalized mentoring and placement support. Learn more today about our world-class major and minor degrees at hospitality.byuh.edu.

